

Family-Forming Solutions

Infertility impacts 1 in 6 American couples from every ethnicity and socioeconomic class. Single and LGBTQIA+ people are also affected by family-forming challenges.

This means many of your employees are struggling with the physical, emotional and financial burdens of trying to have a child, whether or not they're talking about it.

Employers increasingly realize that fertility benefits are no longer optional. Benefits decision makers want to offer inclusive support to employees and plan participants without significantly increasing medical plan costs.

About ARC Fertility

ARC® Fertility was founded in 1997 from its founder's passion to increase access to affordable, high-quality reproductive care for everyone.

We are accomplishing our mission through our national network of ARC Select™ practices and clinics that have been carefully vetted for adherence to evidence-based medical care and partnerships with brokers, employers, health plans and TPAs.

ARC physicians deliver high-value fertility and family-forming employer benefits through evidence-based treatment packages with externally validated superior outcomes at lower cost and innovative pricing.

ARC provides comprehensive women's and male reproductive health services along with optional pharmacy, pregnancy, return to work, menopause and emotional health programs as well as financing directly to patients.

ARC Fertility has helped tens of thousands of people create the family of their dreams.
