

Principal Consultant – PBM Consulting

Terry Killilea, Pharm. D. – Senior Vice President USI Pharmacy Consulting Practice Leader

Terry Killilea, Pharm. D., provides integrated clinical and fiscal solutions to health plans and employers. Terry provides leadership strategies and solutions that consider all aspects of health care, from clinical patient care quality to fiscal bottom line.

Prior to joining USI, Terry served as a clinical director in a 500-bed hospital; formulary and clinical officer of a large pharmacy benefits manager (PBM); and Vice President of a health plan.

Terry has developed, operated, and expanded cost management and evidence-based clinical programs for a large PBM and a national multi-state Blue Cross Blue Shield plan. He was the originator of the internal PBM, RegenceRx. Prior to Regence, Dr. Killilea was Senior Vice President, Chief Clinical Officer, of a NYSE-traded national PBM.

Terry served six terms on the advisory board of Managed Healthcare Executive and served as chief clinical and pharmacoeconomic strategy officer for Biopharma Partners, where he was responsible for managed healthcare strategic planning for bio-oncology and pharmacogenomic sciences. Terry has published numerous clinical research and managed care articles and several book chapters.

Dr. Killilea earned his B.S. in biochemistry and cell biology from the University of California, San Diego and his Pharm. D. from the University of California, San Francisco. He served his Residency in Clinical Pharmacy at Stanford University in California.
